To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Armando Baranda and I'm from Imperial Valley. I'm attending The University of Arizona Yuma Branch Campus and my major is in Agricultural Technology Management, which correlates to an Agronomist. I'm currently a Junior and will graduate in December 2020.

The desire to grow my network in Agriculture and understand the true meaning of where my major can take me makes this job perfect. I'm qualified due to the education I've gained from taking upper-level classes from The University of Arizona, certificates from USDA and Produce Safety Alliance. I'm dedicated and feel prepared to learn and grow as much as possible.

After hearing the description of "Food Safety Coordinator" an opportunity working in the food safety team, it caught my attention to apply. My previous jobs were and can relate to the responsibilities needed for the job. The recent internship I was working for is as a student intern with The University of Arizona Yuma. The skills that are required for this job were communication and interpersonal skills.

As I visualize my opportunities in the agricultural industry and get closer to my senior year the need for hands-on experience is valuable. I know that a job at an entry level will be a great experience due to the demand and importance it has with knowing the steps and procedures. Just as learning the company values, my experience as a seasonal runner for United Partial Service had plenty of communications skills and procedures that needed to be followed. Like food safety procedures are required and must be followed by law.

I would like the opportunity to work with the food safety team. To be able to work with a dream job and familiarize me with the procedures of a Professional Food Safety. I have learned valuable information that will help me succeed as an employee. This job will allow me to grow in the agriculture field. It will help me as a student and I hope to hear from you in the future. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Armando Baranda.
